Farmers are generally conceded to be the best informed of all classes American citizens. This is because they read more than others but because their reading matter is better selected, is read under conditions less distracting and more favorable to recollection, and therefore is better digested and more firmly retained. Even in the busiest seasons, farmers keep up with current events and know fully as well as town folks what is going on in the world. Their families, too, are well posted on current events. To supply this high grade demand for general information, The Farmer and Stockman, of Kansas City, Mo. conducts a department of "Current Events and Comments," which briefs sets forth all the large events of the times, omitting minor details. The review of the world's news is prepared by a trained journalist and is of great value to farmers and their families. Every farmer's family in this county should take The Farmer and Stockman, especially during the busy season. The INTELLIGENCER always glad to forward subscription for this excellent farm paper. Let order it for you. 4.
